Results-driven Full-Stack Developer with a proven ability to design and build scalable web applications using Next.js and modern backend architectures. I actively integrate AI-driven development practices to maximize efficiency. I combine my technical expertise with a friendly and communicative approach to drive the delivery of high-quality products.

EXPERIENCE

Full-Stack Developer

Jan 2021 — Present

Eazy Digital, Bangkok

- Currently serving as a Full-Stack Developer at Eazy Digital, I engineer scalable web applications tailored for the insurance sector, specifically the 'Eazy Agent' and 'Eazy Profile' platforms. Utilizing a modern tech stack of Next.js and Node.js with TypeScript, I collaborate closely with Project Managers and UX Designers to deliver intuitive user experiences. I actively contribute to the team's success by adopting new technologies to solve complex challenges, and I continuously optimize application performance and maintainability through proactive code refactoring and structural improvements.

Senior Software Developer

Feb 2023 — Dec 2024

Appman, Bangkok

- As a Senior Software Developer, I actively contributed to the 'Agentmate Core' insurance support system by engineering robust full-stack solutions using React.js and Node.js with TypeScript. Collaborating closely with Business Analysts and UX Designers, I helped translate complex business needs into intuitive features. I also focused on optimizing system performance and release efficiency by consistently refactoring legacy code and streamlining the deployment process.

Senior Software Developer

Aug 2020 — Jan 2023

Magicbox Solution, Bangkok

- I developed and maintained comprehensive full-stack and mobile applications for key company products (Fixtab, MBS API, Vich) utilizing React.js, React Native, and Node.js. Beyond writing scalable code, I architected relational databases and managed cloud infrastructure using Docker and Kubernetes on AWS. Working seamlessly with cross-functional teams, I continuously streamlined workflows, resolved unique technical challenges, and improved software delivery pipelines.

Full-Stack Developer

Nov 2019 — Jul 2020

True Corporation, Bangkok

- Operating within a large-scale enterprise environment, I engineered and maintained a complex microservices architecture, including a centralized organizational logging system and a user cashback platform. Utilizing Node.js, Golang, MySQL, and Elasticsearch, alongside observability tools like Grafana and Kibana, I partnered with analysts to ensure system reliability and optimize deployment pipelines for high-volume data management.

Full-Stack Developer

Oct 2018 — Oct 2019

3DS Interactive, Bangkok

- I developed scalable full-stack applications—spanning an enterprise client management system, an API routing CMS, and an AI marketing platform—using a robust tech stack of Vue.js, Golang, Kafka, Redis, and Elasticsearch. By implementing containerized deployments with Docker and Kubernetes, and collaborating seamlessly with Product Owners and QA engineers, I successfully delivered resilient backend systems and high-performance data pipelines.

Full-Stack Developer

May 2017 — Sep 2018

P-Soft, Nonthaburi

- In my foundational full-stack role, I engineered versatile web applications for high-profile government and enterprise clients using a diverse array of technologies, including Angular 6, PHP (Laravel, Phalcon), and .NET Core. Working closely with cross-functional teams, I designed and managed complex database architectures across PostgreSQL, Oracle DB, and MongoDB, adapting quickly to unique technical challenges to ensure successful project delivery.
